

DEATH CAME TO LEATHER MAN AT DINNER TABLE

Edward C. Talcott Stricken While Dining in Restaurant With Woman.

Edward C. Talcott, secretary and treasurer of the New Jersey Leather Manufacturing Company, was stricken with apoplexy in the Terrace Garden restaurant, in Fifty-eighth street, last evening, and died before medical assistance arrived.

A young woman who was dining with him refused to give her name at first, but later described herself as Miss Margaret Jones, of No. 55 West Fifty-eighth street. She telephoned to Dr. Barsado, who lives there, and he confirmed her story that Mr. Talcott had been ill for some time.

Mr. Talcott was thirty-seven years old. He lived at the Hotel Seymour. He was a member of the New York Yacht Club and of the New York Athletic Club and was in comfortable circumstances.

JOHN D.'S OFFER BRINGS OUT ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED

Will Try to Keep Home Workmen Busy; Can't Care for Others.

John D. Rockefeller's first aid to the unemployed has had a more far-reaching effect than anticipated. His home at Pocantico Hills now fairly swarms daily with men seeking something to do.

Some of the men, taking the announcement about the unemployed literally, have been marching into the woodlands, chopping it up and carrying it away without so much as a "thank you," or "by your leave," and this evoked from the superintendent of the estate a protest that they expected to be consulted in the matter at least.

Men have come there from all over Westchester County and even from New York, and Sup't. C. V. Hemmingsway does not know what to do with them. He prefers giving work to local men, and does not regard outsiders as suitable, although it is his desire to give all work when possible.

"We cannot care for every man who gets out of work," he said, in speaking of the sudden influx of strangers. "We have all we can do to care for our people hereabouts, and this we do the year round. If every employer did the same, there would be no hard times."

MURPHY'S CONTRACTOR NEEDN'T PAY HIS WIFE.

Woman Is Inmate of House of Good Shepherd and Alimony Plea Fails in Court.

Catherine A. Crockett, described by her husband as "big and strong," while he is "pale, weak and unable to defend himself" from her brutal assaults and beatings, will receive no alimony. She will have to raise the money to pay her lawyer for defending her in the suit of Boss Murphy's favorite building contractor for a separation on the ground of her cruelty.

Justice Leventritt said so today, denying Lawyer Goldsmith's motion in her behalf for $100 weekly alimony and $1,000 costs.

Counsel for her husband, William Crockett, of No. 12 E. Crockett, submitted affidavits showing that Mr. Crockett's charge that his wife is addicted to liquor is untrue. She is now an inmate of the House of the Good Shepherd under a long commitment by a City Magistrate.

Justice Leventritt said: "To allow alimony and counsel fee in a case such as this presented would be to reward misconduct. The motion for alimony and counsel fee is denied."

FRANKLIN B. LORD DIES.

Senior Member of Lord, Day & Lord—Family Noted in Law.

Franklin Butler Lord, senior member of the firm of Lord, Day & Lord, died at No. 58 Park avenue, yesterday, after a brief illness.

Mr. Lord came of an ancestry distinguished in the law. He was born in New York City Sept. 17, 1850. He was graduated from Columbia College in the class of 1870. Mr. Lord was admitted to the bar in 1873 and in 1876 became head of the law firm established by his father.

In 1875 Mr. Lord married Miss Josephine Gillet, who survives him, with three sons, Franklin Butler Lord, Jr., a graduate of Yale in the class of 1903, and Edward Cary Lord and George De Forest Lord. Mr. Lord was a member of many clubs and societies.

Nothing to Compare with It.

(Portland (Me.) Press.)

The World Almanac and Encyclopedia for 1908 has been received. This is one of the most valuable reference works in the English language, and that there is no publication in a foreign language that can compare with this. The current number is enlarged to nearly a thousand pages, it being the twenty-fifth anniversary number, and it is wonderful what an amount of information is packed into this compass. There are few things in the way of statistics that one is most likely to want to know which he will not find here in readily available form. One of the new features is a review of important world events during the last quarter century.

ODDITIES IN THE NEWS ALL OVER THE WORLD

Short Stories of Unusual Happenings and Singular Experiences Picked Out of the Chronicles of the Day.

A tornado hit a house in Etowah County, Alabama, where Edward McCurdy was supposed to be dying, and almost instantly cured him.

McCurdy, who is seventy-five years old, was blown from his bed, and his relatives, who were awaiting his end, were thrown in all directions, when the storm struck late Sunday night.

The sick man got on his feet and fled. He had so far recovered last night that he expects to live for many years.

QUITS PULPIT FOR HIS BLOODED DOGS.

The Rev. T. Moore Smith has resigned as pastor of the Scotch Plains (N. J.) Baptist Church because members of his congregation objected to his breeding valuable dogs and exhibiting them at bench shows.

The clergyman has a kennel of fine setters and coach dogs. They have taken many prizes.

HATPIN SCRATCH KILLED A WOMAN.

Miss Martha Bowne, of Columbus, N. J., died last night of a slight scratch by a hatpin on one of her fingers.

The scratch was made two weeks ago and it was so slight she gave it no thought. Three days ago blood poisoning set in.

THIEF REPLACED STOLEN CHICKENS.

Thomas Ingraham, of Parks Mills, near Middletown, N. Y., went to his chicken house yesterday and found this note:

"Mr. Farmer—I was wicked to steal them chickens from you, so I brought you some better ones I didn't steal."

Sure enough there were a dozen high graded hens. Ingraham had lost a hen to a thief a couple of weeks ago.

TRAINED, WHIPPED HUSBAND IN COURT.

Mrs. Mary Kracke, of Chicago, nineteen years old, took six months' training in physical culture with a view to beating her husband.

She found the opportunity in court yesterday where she charged him with abandonment.

She flew at him and hit him hard a dozen times.

The astonished judge fined her $10. She went to jail.

GLASS EYE STOLEN WHILE OWNER SLEPT.

J. W. Higgins, a travelling salesman, was arrested at W. E. Glassett in London last evening on a charge of stealing a glass eye.

Higgins said he was asleep in a hotel when his eye fell out and Glassett took it and sold it.

DUG UP COIN DATED 249 B. C.; WORTH $1,500.

J. E. Hamilton, of Springfield, Mass., was digging angle worms in his garden when his spade turned up an old Roman coin which dates back 2157 years.

It is said to be worth $1,500. The coin is of copper and well preserved.

KENSINGTON HOTEL NOT A CHEAP LODGING HOUSE.

One of Newark's Best Known Houses, It Is Eminently Respectable and Well Managed.

In referring to the visit of Judge Fitzgerald to Newark, under an assumed name, the other day, an inadvertence caused the reference to the Kensington Hotel, the place where he stopped, as a cheap lodging house. As a matter of fact the Kensington is one of the best hotels in Newark and persons of social prominence are accustomed to stop there.

J. D. Benjamin, who is manager of the place, is one of the best known hotel managers around New York, and his house enjoys a reputation among travellers and visitors second to none in the State of New Jersey.

MORGANTOWN GETS UP TO REMIND US

West Virginia Town Has Added 10,000 to Its Population Since 1900.

The growth of Morgantown, W. Va., from a small town of 2,000 in 1900 to a prosperous community of 12,000 to-day, is made the occasion of an elaborate special number of the Morgantown Chronicle, a daily paper of the progressive and up-to-date sort.

This greater Morgantown number relates in picture and story the rise of the industries of its town and the splendid success of many of its enterprises. Calling itself the Athens of West Virginia this proud little community has this to say about its scenery and resources:

"Morgantown smiles upon a vista of landscape unsurpassed in picturesque beauty. Behind her the grandeur of the Cheat Mountains, in front of her the majestic Monongahela. For sublimity of scenery she is unsurpassed by the verdant hills of Old Ireland or the river beauty of the Hudson or St. John. Nowhere are the sunsets more radiant, the moon a purer sheen, the summer showers more refreshing, or the winter snows more sparkling, than among these hills."

The town was founded in 1768 by David and Zackquill Morgan, and became an independent borough in 1786.

Among the many institutions of Morgantown is justly proud is the Bank of the Monongahela Valley, with resources of $1,000,000. The officers of the bank are: President E. H. Coombs, Vice-President L. S. Brock; Cashier, J. H. McGraw; assistant cashier, J. B. Wallace.

Among other prominent men of Morgantown are the Hon. George C. Sturges, J. Am. Martin, Howard L. Swisher, H. A. Davidson, Walter H. Myers, F. M. Dent and J. M. Reed.

One teaspoonful of this mixture after meals and at bedtime will take off four to seven pounds of fat a week without causing wrinkles, interfering with the diet or distressing the stomach in the slightest.

WOMAN IN STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

Mrs. Wood Admitted by Unanimous Vote—City Association Rebuked.

The New York State Bar Association has elected Mrs. Harriette Johnston Wood a member by unanimous vote. She is the first woman admitted to the association, which in this action declares a rebuke to the New York City Bar Association and its ruling against women.

When the names of Mrs. Rosella Lowa Whitney and Miss Jessie Astley came before the New York City Bar Association, the former was induced to withdraw her application and the latter was finally refused admission.

Mrs. Wood is a member of the firm of Wood & Wood, her husband being her law partner.

H. CLAY PIERCE SICK.

H. Clay Pierce, chairman of the board of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company and of the Mexican Central Railway Company, is confined to his home by a severe cold, but is expected to be at his office in a few days.

Fashion and Fat.

Isn't it fortunate that when fashion demands slender gracefulness of women who have to break corset laces to make themselves even presentable that science steps in and makes their task easy?

For dieting and exercising it has substituted a pleasant, wholesome mixture that can be obtained at small cost from any druggist, viz. ¼ ounce Marmola, 1 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara, Aromatic, and 3½ ounces Syrup Simplex.

One teaspoonful of this mixture after meals and at bedtime will take off four to seven pounds of fat a week without causing wrinkles, interfering with the diet or distressing the stomach in the slightest.
